EXPERIENCE

McDonalds, Billings, Montana — Customer

July 4th 1992

Ate my first Big Mac with fries. This signified the moment when I would stop eating or desiring a toy with my pile of salt, grease, potatoes and bread.

Taco Bell, Billings, Montana — Customer

March 12th 2002

Had Taco Bell the first time and discovered the connection between eating food and feeling good, or in this case, bad.

Wendy's, Bozeman, Montana — Customer

August 31st

Ate one of Dave's square burgers haven't looked back. McDonald's is but a spec in my culinary rear view mirror.

Arby's, Big Montana, Montana — Victim

UNKNOWN_MONTH UNKNOWN_DAY UNKNOWN_YEAR

Ate a "roast beef" sandwich. Haven't seen my colon since.

PROJECTS

Jack in the Box — An on going project

After their stint of ecoli breakouts, I still have never eaten at a Jack in The Box. Over time, I hope to train my gastro-intestinal fortitude in order to finally tackle the bricolage of "flavor™" that one experiences through their consumption through evacuation of a Jack in The Box meal.
